University Mobility in Asia and the Pacific

AIMS: ASEAN Int'l Mobility for Students

AIMS grew out of the ASEAN University Network (AUN) and M-I-T (Malaysia, Indonesia-Thailand) and endeavours to create a vibrant student mobility program for citizens of all SEAMEO member countries.

Following the success of the MIT pilot project, it is now a fully-fledged ASEAN program.

Additional Southeast Asian nations have been invited to join the efforts of the three existing countries and collectively develop a regional Southeast Asian student mobility program.

CAMPUS Asia

CAMPUS Asia (collective action for mobility program for university students Asia), government-led

CAMPUS Asia is a student exchange program funded by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT) to support Japanese universities in extending their global reach.

New Colombo Plan

The New Colombo Plan is a signature initiative of the Australian Government which aims to lift knowledge of the Indo Pacific in Australia by supporting Australian undergraduates to study and undertake internships in the region.

The New Colombo Plan involves a scholarship program for study of up to one year and internships or mentorships, and a flexible mobility grants program for both short and longer-term study, internships, mentorships, practicums and research.

Asia Pacific Research Universities

APRU in partnership with its members conducts activities for students with the aim to raise awareness of social, environmental or economic policy issues related to the Asia Pacific region.

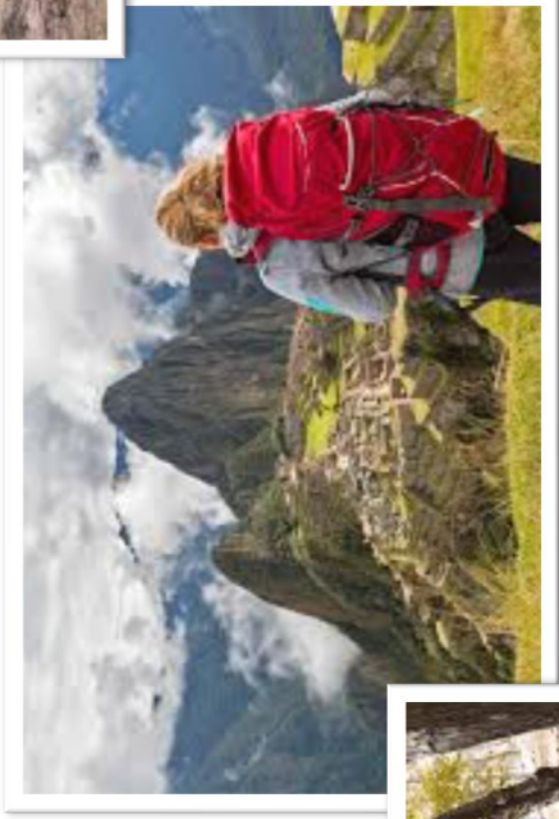

Competitions and courses enable students from APRU member universities to apply their knowledge to critical policy challenges in the region, enhance their international experience and enrich their key competencies and leadership potential.
