“The Invisible Wall” and Higher

Ed

• Congress has been paralyzed on immigration issues since May 12, 2005—the date the McCain-Kennedy immigration bill was introduced and unfortunately died along with its co-sponsor.

• So if you as President have made reduction in legal immigration a central issue, how do you navigate around Congress?

• By creating a web of mutually-reinforcing policies to discourage, delay and deny legal immigrants from getting a foothold in the US.
Strangle The Source: Students, EV’s

- Repellant Image of the US.
- Travel Bans.
- Administrative Processing.
- Visa Denials and Revocations.
- Long term visa bars for minor arrests, convictions in US.
- Public Charge.
- Proposal to do away with no objection J waivers.
Please Don’t Stay: Students, EV’s

- Unlawful presence policy: Injunction now, rule coming in fall.
- Doing away with “duration of status”; agency adjudicated extensions.
- Change of status difficulties: force applicants back out to consulates.
- Biometrics for H 4 dependents.
- Attacking valid grants of CPT, OPT.
- Moving to reduce, tighten CPT, OPT.
- H1B RFE’s, denials, tightening of “specialty occupation”: reg agenda.
- H1B Registration System: will flood lottery with “fake” employees.
- Lengthening adjudication times.
- “Prudential” visa revocations; refusals of admission.
- Increased paranoia regarding foreign espionage: export control, technology transfer.
Please Don’t Stay: Permanent Residence

• H-4 work authorization revocation.
• Public charge regulation.
• Extreme tightening of Outstanding Professor/Researcher standards.
• Lengthening adjudication times.
• Killing the “feedback loop” between industry and higher ed.
• Bright spot: no attack yet on labor certification system.
Get Out!

• DACA: no new applications, no advance parole.
• DACA revocation: Supreme Court decision by June.
• Increased enforcement: less Deferred Action, more separation of families.
• Ending TPS for 300,000 people who have been here for decades.
• Attacking “sanctuary” cities.
• Attacking states sympathetic to immigrants: NY.
Invisible Wall: Overall Effects

• Gradual dismantling of US “higher education ecosystem”
  • Loss of revenue from international students.
  • Loss of inexpensive, hard to find talent used to staff research programs, teaching assistantships. Most acute in STEM.
  • Loss of students, professors, researchers who do not feel welcome.
  • Accelerating gains by competitor countries: Canada: 17% increase in international students.
